Bautista Firing Appeal Slated

A move to obtain an impartial hearing officer from the state on the appeal of his firing by Vince Bautista, former Associate Planner, has been approved by the City Council.

Following an executive session, prior to a budget study session last week, council amended the Personnel Regulations to provide for the hearing officer from the State Office of Administrative Hearings.

The officer would hear testimony and make a recommendation to the council, presumably one which would uphold Bautista's dismissal or overturn it.

At the hearing, which would be closed, evidence would be presented by both parties, legal technicalities reviewed and witnesses would testify. The hearing officer would also question the witnesses.

Bautista requested that the initial hearing be closed but that a followup hearing before the council be open to the public.

He is represented by the Orange County Employees Association. Council agreed to that organization's requests on ground rules for the hearings and authorized the City Attorney and his office to present the city's case. The council may have to hire an outside attorney to represent the city at the public hearing.

Because of his appeal Bautista has declined to comment on the reason or reasons why he was dismissed from city employment. The city has likewise refused to comment, saying only through City Administrator Art Simonian that Bautista was dismissed and that the job opening is being advertised.

Despite the reluctance of both parties to comment, sources close to City Hall insist that Bautista's dismissal stems from his removal and discarding of privately owned signs as violations of the sign ordinance.

Fire Station For East Side

East Yorba Linda has a fire station in its future, City Administrator Arthur Simonian told the city council Monday night.

According to Orange County Assistant Fire Marshall Bill Teie, Simonian said, by June 1 the county should have a trailer in position on Yorba Linda Boulevard east of Fairmont staffed by four firemen on a round-the-clock basis.

Additional service will presumably be provided by an east-side adjunct to the present volunteer fire department.

Organization and operation of the east-side volunteers will be under the supervision of Fire Chief Keith Earle, Simonian said.

In other business, the city council adopted on first reading 1976 editions of the city's building, swimming-pool, and plumbing codes—but not without some discussion relating to swimming pools and plumbing.

Councilman Dale Chaput questioned continued specification in the code of galvanized iron pipe for new housing, claiming that "this stuff only lasts six or seven years."

"People buy their homes planning to live in them for a while," Chaput added, "but then after a few years the plumbing has to be replaced."

Building Official H. Ivan Smith confirmed that there seemed to be a problem, but said he was unsure how great it was.

Finally, Mayor Henry W. Wedaa proposed having Smith make a study to determine the desirability of copper pipe over iron and report his findings back to the council. The council agreed.

The question of placement of swimming-pool equipment was raised by local resident Jim Matych, who pointed out that current requirements that pool apparatus be situated in side yards sometimes caused such equipment to be placed in other than the most practical and economic location.

City Planning Director Phil Paxton, to whom persons confronted by the problem must take their woes, confirmed Matych's claim, saying that he gets about two such cases a month.

Matych's suggestion that the council adopt an urgency ordinance amending the requirements met little encouragement from City Attorney Leonard Hampel, however.

"Procedures for adjustments and variances are adequate to handle the problem," said Hampel. "The law imposes specific requirements on urgency ordinances, and I can find no justification for one in this case."

Paxton noted that many persons who have encountered the problem install their equipment as required by existing ordinance rather than sit out the three-to-four week wait that getting an adjustment can involve.

Disputed Zone Change OK'd

A city initiated zone change on property from low density to medium low density was recommended to the City Council by the Planning Commission last week after impassioned arguments from supporters and opponents.

The zone change was advanced to bring the property in exact conformance with the General Plan. It passed by a 3-1 vote with Commission Chairman Ann Capron dissenting and Commissioner William Kittredge absent.

The property involved is north of Oriente, east of Ohio, west of Palm and south of city limits. The change would permit development of 1.8 units per acre under the RE (Residential Estate) designation rather than the .7 units per acre under the RA (Residential Agricultural) zoning.

Owners of several properties involved pleaded for the change while neighbors, who presented a 92 signature petition in opposition, declared the change would establish a trend towards maximum density.

MERGER MERRY-GO-ROUND

BY JIM ARKISON

The merry-go-round of indecision or no decision continues in the long playing saga of how to merge three separate school districts into one entity.

The musical chairs pattern continued last week when the Yorba Linda School District volleyballed the problem back and forth for the nth time.

This discussion followed on the heels of similar action by the Placentia Unified School District a couple of nights earlier. The third party is the Fullerton Union High School District which has been as unsuccessful as the others in achieving a meeting of minds on the problem.

YL Trustee Paul Armstrong broached several steps which might be taken. These included hiring a consultant to advise on annexation, drawing up conditional terms of Planning Commissioner Carolyn Ewing, two time former Mayor, has been elected to the position of Executive Director of the Orange County Division of the League of California Cities.

Mrs. Ewing won the post last week in a vote of representatives of 24 of the county's 26 cities. She was a 17-7 victor over William Brown, a councilman in Los Alamitos.

She assumes the post that was vacated by retirement in January by Winston Updegraff. The position pays $12,000 annually.

Shortly after the local council election in March, when Mrs. Ewing declined to seek reelection, she was appointed to the Planning Commission.

Mrs. Ewing said that although the position is currently on a parttime basis it is on the "threshold of becoming a full time job."

She sees her new responsibilities as "a challenge. I have been away from the role of being gainfully employed for so many years that it will be an invigorating experience to take the position from parttime to the status of full time that I believe the Division intends."

It is Mrs. Ewing's belief that the job is being upgraded because of the demise of the Inter-Governmental Coordinating Council, a joint county-city group in Orange County.

"There is a further need for communication between the cities as represented by the League and the Board of Supervisors, regional and state representatives," Mrs. Ewing declared. "The League can ably handle this."

Although she does not officially begin her new duties until June 1, Mrs. Ewing is busy breaking in under the direction of the retiring Updegraff.

She also noted that Orange County will be one of the first divisions of the League of California Cities to have a full time director.

agreement, dropping plans to annex altogether, seeking public opinion on the way to go and how to go about solving the problem or taking "some other route" possibly unification of the local district.

Trustee Gerald Rost urged that the involved districts sit down and negotiate. Deputy Superintendent J. Elton Patridge suggested that the Yorba Linda District needs to formulate a plan, take it to the other boards, ask them to sign it and if they refuse press for the reason for refusal.

Superintendent Sterling Fox pointed out that 40% of Yorba Linda children are now students in the Placentia District and that as the city develops the percentage will be higher until it reaches a point where it is overwhelming.

The board took no action on the matter as it was discussed during the conference item on the agenda.

Country Fair To Have Variety

Yorba Linda's Bicentennial 1776 Country Fair, May 29, will have outstanding local entertainment as well as colorful booths with local craftspeople.

Michael Rosenberg, 14, of Yorba Linda, is half of the patriotic novelty song act of Michael and DeLand. They will follow the 60 young singers of the "Sing Out Now Young Generation" of which Michael is also a member.

The young group whose ages run 11 to 18 was recently featured at Disneyland and sang at the Orange County Fair last year and have been booked to return again this year.

Esperanza High School's 65 piece Concert Band will also be playing, as well as a special group within the band.

Yorba Linda citizens will have an opportunity to meet and talk with many members of the local government bodies in a special "Town Hall Corner."

Members of the city council, the Yorba Linda County Water District, and the Yorba Linda Library District are expected as well as the Yorba Linda School District and the Placentia Unified School District.

Special guests who will be touring the Fair will be Congressman Charles Wiggins, Supervisor Ralph Dietrich, and Assemblyman Bruce Nestande.

Mrs. Linda Eastman will be demonstrating how to card and spin wool into yarn on a novel spinning wheel made from a bicycle wheel in lieu of the expensive wooden wheels used in olden times.

The potter's art will be demonstrated by Mrs. Barbara Tinkle. Mrs. Charlotte Armstrong will have a group of quilts on display made by members of the Y.L. Park and Recreation Department group.

The Y.L. Moravian Community Church will also have a quilt and frame on display and hopes to have a demonstration of candlemaking. Many other crafts will also be on display.

Fire Season Opens Early

Carl Downs, State Firest Ranger and County Fire Chief, has announced that the 1976 fire season was officially declared on May 15. The California Division of Forestry/Orange County Fire Department will be manning its wildland Fire Stations on a full time basis as of May 15.

At the present time, the grass and brush are rapidly drying out in Southern California, but so far the grass is still green enough to be a severe hazard but with a few more days of the warm weather we have been experiencing, the grass will burn very rapidly.

When Fire Season is declared, the CDF/ORCO Fire Department hires 30 seasonal fire fighters to augment Fire Suppression Forces. These fire fighters will remain employed until the end of Fire Season, which can fall any time from November through February.

The coming Fire Season promises to be long and difficult due to the severe drought conditions of the past winter. The winter precipitation was generally only about 50 percent of normal, and was sporadic, which has caused a slightly reduced amount of grass growth which is beneficial; but the lack of rain drastically reduces the amount of moisture in the heavier fuels, such as brush and timber. This leads to extremely fast and hot burning fires, which are the most difficult to control.

How bad is the drought statewide? On the basis of just a single year, 1975-76 looks to be the second only to 1923-24 in much of the State. The 1924 fire season was one of the worst years on record in California in terms of acres of vegetation burned.

In an effort to prevent wild fires from occurring, Chief Downs asks every citizen to be extremely careful with all fires, use caution when traveling through or staying in wildland areas, keep matches and children separated, and be sure all of your mechanical equipment is fire safe.

The Service League will man a booth on behalf of Friends of the Museum at the Country Fair May 29.

Three thousand, six hundred and fifty days!

As of Thursday, May 20, that's how long it will take me to reach the day when, if it is possible at the time, I can retire. Let's say that I will be eligible to retire.

I phrase it in days rather than years because, somehow or other, the time span seems shorter. Naturally, there are going to be a lot of factors involved in the ultimate decision.

The possibility of retirement intrigues me. It is an imponderable intangible. Many people relish the status, others abhor it. I read a story recently about a railroad man who has been retired three or four times. He is well into his 70's and has taken what might be considered a menial job with another railroad after having been president of two or three of them.

Retirement, and especially, the mandatory retirement age, is repugnant to this man and to many others. It is to me, too. I think that if a person can still perform he or she should be allowed to continue working.

Voluntary retirement is something different and also should not have any age barriers. If a person can do so, they should be allowed to retire at any age, even if it is so young that others feel it is ridiculous.

My Dad retired at 70 after 48 years of service with the Post Office. He was so devoted to the job that he was insulted at being forced out. The family worried about the future.

We needn't have. Although he was not an active person, he was an alert and intelligent man. Smoking pipefuls of his B&L Cut Plug, sitting and cogitating, listening to baseball games on the radio, visiting friends and other small pleasures kept him going for most of the next 17 years before the infirmities of old age claimed his life.

Perhaps I am looking forward to the possibility of retirement because for the first 18 months of my life the betting was that I wouldn't get by the next day. To have survived to the point where I can even discuss the subject is a daily bonus to me.

Police Beat

Sunday, May 16

Somebody's got it in for Donald Lee Lawson.

Or so one might conclude. Sunday, Lawson, who lives at 5196 Mountain View, Yorba Linda, discovered that someone over the weekend had stolen a welding outfit from his garage, setting him back about $225.

But that, at least, is comprehensible. The motive is obvious. What is neither obvious nor comprehensible is how his horse got cut.

The previous Wednesday, Lawson discovered that his horse, which is kept in his backyard corral, had suffered a gash in the right side of its jaw, near the neck. A gash four to six inches long and one-half to one inch deep.

Nothing capable of causing such a wound could be found in the corral or in any place accessible to the animal. A veterinarian reportedly said the injury was inflicted by a sharp-edged instrument—like a knife or a razor.

Lawson told police he could think of no one who would do such a thing.

Saturday, May 15

Firearms worth $475 were reportedly stolen from the home of Rick James Robert, 6062 S. Highland, Yorba Linda, last Saturday between 6 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Items taken included an antique shotgun, a .45-cal. pistol, and a .22-cal. rifle.

Water Feeder Line Tied In

The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California (MWD) shut down its lower feeder line on May 12-15. The line supplies water to the Diemer filtration plant near Yorba Linda, but the shutdown in no way affected water delivery to Yorba Linda County Water District customers, district general manager Ralph Shook said.

"We were able to supply all the needed water to our customers from our underground system," Shook explained.

The shutdown was scheduled to permit a tie-in with the Diemer plant of the new Yorba Linda Feeder line from the Weymouth treatment plant near LaVerne, Shook said.

"Completion of this new tie-in line will allow high quality water from Northern California to be directly blended at the Diemer plant with Colorado River water and will eventually improve the quality of water we deliver to our customers," he added.

The Diemer plant currently processes only lower quality Colorado River water. At the present time, Northern California water from the state's new surface distribution system flows down the Santa Ana River and into the water district's underground system. It is not fed directly into the district's surface supply lines.

"We don't know when the blending will begin," Shook said, "but it is certain to eventually improve the quality of water."

Council...

In the end, the council voted to submit the matter to the city planning commission for public hearing in June, with an eye possibly to amending the ordinance as quickly as can be done without resorting to urgency procedure.

The building code was adopted with virtually no discussion, although Councilman Chaput voted against adoption on grounds that installation of smoke detectors will be required in certain structures.

"We're telling people what they have to do with their own homes," said Chaput, "and we have no business doing that." His was the only no vote.

The council also moved ahead in consideration of setting up a city animal-control operation, voting to establish a committee to investigate further the feasibility of doing so.

In a report to the council Administrator Simonian had recommended against the idea, noting that although $21,700 has been collected in dog-license fees this fiscal year in Yorba Linda, operation of a city organization would likely cost $38,000 to $50,000.

Councilman Anton M. Groot claimed however that only 30 percent of dogs were licensed in county-serviced areas, and that if all dogs in town were licensed, the income might be as high as $60,000.

The committee was Groot's suggestion; and, at Chaput's motion, Groot was named council representative to the committee.

According to Simonian, the city will advertise for committee members, filling the positions over the next three to four weeks.

Compliance with the amended city sign ordinance has been good, Planner Paxton reported, with only six to eight violations still unabated out of an original 40. The guilty are to receive personal visits from the sign-code enforcement officer, Paxton said.

In other action, the council—*adopted a resolution establishing a no-parking zone along the west side of Highland Avenue south of Buena Vista;

*voted to interview applicants for the city beautification committee at the next regular (June 7) meeting, although individual council members may conduct private interviews in the meanwhile; and *adopted a resolution in opposition to proposition 15 on next month's primary-election ballot (the proposition, an initiative measure, relates to safety and control of nuclear electricity-generating plants).

Our country is two hundred years old. Benjamin Franklin wrote the Declaration of Independence. Our Liberty Bell was rung for us to remember that we are free. Betsy Ross made the first flag. The colors of our flag stand for courage and liberty and loyalty.

Third Grade, Adele Lewis

America means Liberty and Freedom to me. And I think we have some things other countries do not have like good education in schools and good food and heating and air conditioning in our homes. And brave and wonderful people in the 1800 who freed our country like George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

I think the word America means beautiful hillsides and valleys and when the sunset shines on the mountains and makes the mountains purple, pink, orange, and blue. And this is called the United States of America. The End.

Fourth Grade, Danny Clegg

America means freedom to me. I like it for the beauty, the butterflies, and flowers. I like our flag with the pretty red and white stripes and the fifth shining stars in a field of navy blue. I like it for the families, the people, for the schools, the trees, and every living thing. I like it for the great presidents and heroes; Washington, Lincoln, and Jefferson, and for the revolution. I like it for the beautiful birds that soar through the sky, and I like it for myself.

Fifth Grade, Richelle Davidson

Well, what America means to me is that everything is pretty, nice, and colorful and God put in so many things in the world, that's why and he made people. And it's freedom and you just like to stretch and I think that's America. It's nice you get food, water, Moms and Dads, shelter, and your Mom and Dad to buy a car and they can take you somewhere, like to brunch and to Disneyland and to either places and it means a lot to run free, get away, go run free places, have joy and happiness and love and peace, that's why I like America and the great nice things like church, saints and the people, that's why. And people try to clean up after everyone on the streets and the beaches and you should put your trash in the waste paper basket make America a beautiful sparkling land and everybody will probably. That's how it ended.

Pamphlets Mailed

The Registrar of Voters announced that mailing of the State Ballot pamphlets for the June 8 Primary Election has started. The 72 page pamphlets contain the full text, an explanation, and pro and con arguments for all 15 state propositions appearing on the primary ballot.

This first mailing of over 700,000 pamphlets is being made to all Orange County registered voters whose registrations were on file as of mid-April. The mailing is expected to be complete by May 12. Sample ballots and polling place notices will be mailed separately, beginning today (Wednesday).

Supplemental mailings of ballot pamphlets will be made later to all persons registering between mid-April and May 9, which was the last day to register to vote in the California primary election.

The State Ballot Pamphlets, furnished by the Secretary of State for mailing here, are printed in English but will contain a postage-paid card in Spanish and English advising voters that a Spanish language version of the pamphlet may be obtained by mailing the card.

Letters To The Editor

Rodda Act Assailed

Dear Editor:

S.B. 160, the teacher collective bargaining law, is being challenged in the courts on twenty-one constitutional violations. It has been called the new frontier, the full employment act for lawyers, and the union ball and chain law for independent-minded professional educators.

The Rodda Act (S.B. 160) repeals the Winton Act as of July 1, 1976. The new law calls for the selection of an exclusive bargaining agent. Under the Winton Act all qualified organizations have a voice in matters relating to working conditions.

Individuals cannot represent themselves directly to the employer under the Rodda Act after an exclusive agent has been recognized. (Art. 4, Sec. 3543). Under the Winton Act teachers retain the right to represent themselves individually.

The Rodda Act includes a clause for "organizational security". Teachers can be required to pay agency shop fees as a condition of continued employment. The Winton Act allowed teachers to choose to join or not to join and did not legalize assessments or penalties.

Final responsibility for decisions rests with the elected representatives of the people, the Board of Education, under the Winton Act. Under the Rodda Act an arbitration award made as a result of impasse procedures is final and binding on the Board of Education.

There is also the possibility that tenure can be negotiated away. Join the union and that could be your tenure.

Concerning teacher strikes, the law is a maze. One interpretation from School Services of California reads as follows: "...but neither court nor EERB (Educational Employment Relations Board) may hold invalid a negotiated agreement as a result of a strike." (Sec. 3549)

The Rodda Act seems appropriate for a totalitarian state and not for a democracy and republican form of government.

What right do the Democratic and Republican legislators have to force all teachers into the same mold? What right do the legislators have to force a law upon professional teachers which will literally change the profession to a union teacher job?

Governor Brown must realize that industrial collective bargaining principles were never intended or applicable to public employees least of all teachers.

What a cruel hoax to play upon the public, a collective bargaining chess game between teacher unions and administration with the children's education used as pawns?

The teachers and the public need to be informed. S.B. 160 must be repealed. Let the irresponsible legislators be enlightened or replaced by the voters this November 1976.

Respectfully yours,

Variance Protested

Attn: Planning Director

Subj: Conditional Use Permit 76-04

Dear Sir:

I and a number of my neighbors wish to appeal, to the City Council, the Planning Commission's decision to grant a variance to build a church on the Residential Estates (RE) zoned property located at 5550 Ohio Street, Yorba Linda.

We believe that the Planning Commission and their staff did not give proper, if any, consideration to the traffic problems a church of the size planned will create, particularly in light of the current development of the Settling Basin on Buena Vista Avenue.

The City Engineer has stated that Buena Vista between Grandview and Lakeview will present a "very serious traffic problem" and that to widen Buena Vista would cost over $190,000.00.

There is no justification to allow the building of a church on a street that will cost the property owners of Yorba Linda $190,000.00; not when there would be no need for improving this street if Residential Estates type homes were built on this property as called for in the City's Master Plan.

In granting the variance the Planning Commission also failed to adequately protect the very rural quality of this neighborhood. They "hoped" that the trees on Buena Vista could be saved! They should have made it a condition in granting any variance.

In our view there is no real justification to over-ride the City's Master Plan regarding the zoning of this property. However, if it is to be changed, then the solution to the traffic problems created by two developments, a church and the equestrian park, must be a part of any granted variance.

Proposition 15

Dear Editor:

The California Primary Election June 8 may well be one of the most important elections in our State's history because we will be voting on Proposition 15, the Nuclear Power Plants Initiative.

We at Southern California Edison, after careful analysis, believe that its effect could be to prohibit the construction of new nuclear energy plants and close down those which exist.

Since California already has energy problems, the long-term result would be the halting of new industrial expansion and the possibility of an exodus of existing activities to other states with adequate power resources.

The measure is easily misunderstood since a "Yes" vote for the Nuclear Power Plant Initiative is actually a vote for the potential elimination of Nuclear Power from California.

Many people are being misled into believing that a "Yes" vote will help them obtain nuclear power.

The issue is so serious, in our estimate, that we have initiated a major inhouse effort to gain the support of our 13,000 employees and their families, relatives and friends to defeat this measure.

At the same time, we are strongly supporting the work of the "No on 15" Committee in Orange County.

I urge you, as a respected opinion-maker, not only to Vote No on 15, but encourage others to join in defeating this measure.

Miss YL Pageant

Dear Jim:

I don't know when I've ever read a finer and more "picturesque" EDITORIAL than your "FURTHERMORE" in today's "STAR". It is a heartfelt tribute to Mrs. Anne McGrory...who gave her all to this year's Miss Yorba Linda Pageant.

She, along with several others, spent untold hours on what should be broadly recognized as a difficult and delicate event, beamed, as it was, to trying to please nearly a thousand people.

Also, it is refreshing to note such an Editorial, representing, as it does, a degree of unbiased appreciation for work well done and in the best interests of a community.

These days, we don't see enough of such helpful expressions. In what appears to be a great move into areas of petty criticism, the "plus" side of human endeavor appears to be neglected.

Not only do the youngsters "need guidance and supervision of the older generations", but they also need widespread recognition of work well done.

Those sixteen young ladies of this year's Pageant are ladies indeed, and such Editorials as yours should do much to bring more to the surface.

GOP Women Hear From Candidates

Republican candidates for nomination to the U.S. Senate and the 35th State Senatorial District in the June 8 Primary Election, by themselves or through representatives, appeared locally last week.

The occasion was a joint meeting of Federated Republican Women's Clubs of Yorba Linda, Placentia and Brea. Joining with the clubs was the Placentia-Yorba Linda Soroptimist Club.

Speakers for the U.S. Senate candidates were Mrs. Alphonso (Mariane) Bell, wife of Rep. Bell who cited her husband's experience as a legislator; Mrs. Robert (Carol) Finch who told of her husband's balanced career at the state and national level;

Also: Mrs. Betsy Haynes on behalf of John Harmer who sought support in spite of the candidate's late start in the campaign and Louis Dexter for S.I. Hayakawa who mentioned the movement towards non-professional politicians.

Three of the four State Senate candidates were there. Speaking for John Briggs was Ron Fox who stressed his employer's concentration of fiscal responsibility;

Ruth Hamilton Dutcher spoke out for conservation of energy and fuel; Shirley Knuppel focused on the need to elect women to office and John Lynch called for cleaning up Orange County politics.

Moderator was Roy Knauft, administrative assistant to Congressman Charles Wiggins. The welcome was delivered by Mrs. Marianne Hodgkins, president of the Yorba Linda Club and meeting chairman.

Pre-program entertainment of songs was provided by Allison Fonte of Buena Park and Michael Rosenberg of Yorba Linda. Allison was recently chosen as one of the new Disneyland Mouseketeers. Michael has been in several musical plays.

The well attended meeting was held at the Alta Vista Country Club.

TOO MUCH SUN

Skin cancer is the most common form of cancer. Fortunately, it is also the most curable. Your American Cancer Society says the sun is the culprit in most cases of skin cancer. Avoid the sun in large doses and see your physician for changes in a wart, mole or a sore that does not heal.

PERFECT FORM is displayed by Esperanza frosh Jeff Carpenter as he clears the bar to qualify in the CIF 2A prelims held at Bradford Stadium.

Troy Out Of CIF

Troy High came up with three quick runs in the first two innings but St. Bernard was more productive in the first three frames to win the CIF playoff game 6-3 last Friday.

The 3A tussle result eliminated the Warriors from further competition with a season's record of 18-0.

Troy rattled St. Bernard with two first inning tallies. Keith Rokosz singled and Warrior pitcher Ron Moore walked. Both advanced on a balk and Greg Sporrer brought Rokosz home with a single off the shortstop's glove.

A delayed steal with Sporrer getting intentionally trapped in a run down allowed Moore to beat the throw home. The winners came back with a first inning run.

The Warriors scored again in the second when Lance Chapin delivered a single to score Pete Chapin. But this was to be Troy's last gasp.

St. Bernard got three second inning runs and added single markers in the third and sixth. Rick Evans shut out Troy for the rest of the game.

The energy crisis that need not happen

Gas Cutoff Predicted By PUC

The California Public Utilities Commission predicts a curtailment of residential and commercial natural gas service in the Southland unless gas is obtained from other supply projects.

The projections were made in PUC's 10-year forecast of gas utilities' requirements and supply covering the period 1976-1985.

PUC said that despite higher levels of natural gas supplies and reduced levels of demand, the curtailment of service was forecast by 1980-81 unless additional gas supplies were obtained from other sources.

is getting closer.

One of a series of reports by Harvey A. Proctor, Chairman, Southern California Gas Company.

For several years now, we at the Gas Company have been warning about a serious natural gas shortage in the near future if something isn't done right away. The clipping reproduced above shows that the staff of the Public Utilities Commission recognizes it. This is important. Solving the energy problem demands awareness and cooperation between governmental agencies, labor and industry, and the public.

The situation.

In-state supplies of natural gas for southern California have just about dried up, and our suppliers, who get their gas from Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, are cutting back deliveries to us. This has forced us to stop supplying some industrial customers who are able to use other fuels—fuels which are more expensive than gas. If we're not permitted to go ahead rapidly with projects that will bring more natural gas to southern California, we face the dilemma of having to limit our deliveries to small businesses which cannot burn alternate fuels.

The projects.

- We have plans to construct a plant in the Cook Inlet area of south Alaska to prepare natural gas for shipment here. Special ships to bring the gas here have been ordered.
- We have plans to participate in a proposed pipeline that would bring natural gas here from Prudhoe Bay in north Alaska.
- We have plans to build a plant in New Mexico that will make gas from coal.
- We have signed contracts with Pertamina, the Indonesian oil and gas company, to buy its natural gas and import it in liquid form.

The problem.

Delays. Delays on decisions from local, state and federal agencies that affect all of our new supply projects. And every delay adds to the cost of each project and the danger of a future severe shortage of natural gas. A shortage that could mean closed businesses, many hundreds of thousands of lost jobs, and even cold homes, according to the best studies we have.

The solution.

Faster decisions. Of course, government agencies must perform their duties, but the faster the regulatory agencies act, the faster we can get new supplies of natural gas. We know how to prevent a natural gas shortage. We're ready to do so. But after years of hard effort, not one of our new supply projects has received final approval, and our hands are tied without governmental approval.
